Article 11. Settlement of Disputes between the Contracting Party and the Investor

1) If an investment dispute arises between a Contracting Party and an investment from the investors of the other Contracting Party, the Contracting Party and the investor will try to settle it through consultation and negotiation.

2) If it is not possible for the Contracting Party and that investor to reach an agreement within six months after the written request for settlement discussions, the dispute shall be submitted for settlement by choosing the investor either by:

A) the court of the host Contracting Party having jurisdiction to do so, or

B) Arbitration at the International Center for the Settlement of Investment Disputes, which was created under the Washington Convention dated March 18, 1965 regarding settlement of investment disputes between countries and nationals of other countries, in the event of accession or upon the accession of the contracting parties to this Agreement.

3) Arbitration decisions are final and binding for both parties to the dispute, and each contracting party is obliged to implement these decisions in accordance with its national legislation.

Article 12. Settlement of Disputes between the Contracting Parties

- 1) If any dispute arises between the two Contracting Parties, relating to the interpretation or application of this agreement, the Contracting Parties will endeavor first to settle it through consultation and negotiation.
- 2) If the two Contracting Parties did not reach an agreement within six months after the written request for settlement discussions, the dispute shall be submitted upon the request of one of the Contracting Parties and according to their relevant laws and procedures, to a tribunal of three arbitrators. Each party shall appoint one arbitrator, and these two arbitrators shall nominate the third arbitrator, who shall be the president of the tribunal. The president must be from a third country that has diplomatic relations with both contracting parties at the time of the nomination.
- 3) If the Contracting Party who requested the arbitration appoints its arbitrator in the text of the arbitration request and if the other Contracting Party does not appoint its court within two months from the date of receiving the arbitration request, that arbitrator will be appointed by the President of the International Court of Justice at the request of the Contracting Party who requested the arbitration.
- 4) If the two arbitrators do not agree on choosing the president within sixty days of the appointment of the second arbitrator, the latter will be appointed by the President of the International Court of Justice at the request of either of the Contracting Parties.
- 5) In the two cases specified in (3) and (4) of this article, if the President of the International Court of Justice is unable to carry out the aforementioned tasks or if he is a citizen of one of the Contracting Parties, the appointments will be made by the Vice-President of the International Court of Justice and if it is not possible for the latter to make these appointments, or if he is also a citizen of one of the Contracting Parties, the appointments will be made by the member of the International Court of Justice next in seniority who is not a citizen of either Contracting Party.
- 6) The tribunal shall determine its procedures and the place of arbitration unless otherwise agreed upon between the two Contracting Parties.
- 7) Each Contracting Party shall bear the costs of the member of the arbitral tribunal that has appointed by the arbitration board, as well as all expenses related to its own representation during the arbitration procedures, and share the other costs and those regarding the president, unless the tribunal decides otherwise.
- 8) The decisions of the tribunal shall be final and binding on the Contracting Parties. The tribunal shall determine its procedures and place of arbitration unless otherwise agreed upon between the Contracting Parties.

Article 13. Entry Into Force

This Agreement shall come into force after (30) days from the date of the last notifications to complete the procedures for ratification by the Contracting Parties.

Article 14. Duration and Termination

- 1) This agreement shall be valid for a period of ten (10) years, and shall remain in force for subsequent periods of five years, unless it is terminated in the manner specified in paragraph (2) of this article.
- 2) Either Contracting Party can terminate this agreement at the end of the first ten-year period or at the end of any extension period by notifying the other Contracting Party in writing a year before the end of the period.
- 3) The investments made before the date of termination of this agreement shall be subject to it for a period of ten years from the date of termination.
