Article 10. Compliance with Each Party's Obligations

Each Contracting Party shall ensure the fulfillment of obligations and guarantees that it has made in relation to a specific private investment of an investor of the other Contracting Party.

Article 11. Scope of the Agreement

This Agreement shall apply to investments which have been approved by the competent authority of the host Contracting Party. The competent authority of the Islamic Republic of Iran is the Organization for Investment, Economic and Technical Assistance of Iran and any other authority which replaces it. The competent authority of the People's Democratic Republic of Korea is the Joint Venture Investment Committee of the Government.

Article 12. Settlement of Disputes between a Contracting Party and an Investor of the other Contracting Party

1. When a dispute arises between a Contracting Party and one or more investment investors of the other Contracting Party concerning an investment, the investor(s) and the said Contracting Party will first attempt to resolve the dispute through negotiation and consultation and in a friendly manner.
2. If the investor and investor (s) of the Contracting Party concerned fail to agree with each other within six months from the date of notification of the claim, either of them may submit the dispute to the competent courts of the host Contracting Party or, subject to its own rules and regulations, refer it to a three-member arbitral tribunal set forth in paragraph 5 of this Article.
3. Any dispute initially brought before to the competent courts of the host Contracting Party shall not be referred to arbitration unless it is under agreement of the parties, and if the final judgment is finalized, it will not be possible to refer to arbitration.
4. Any disputes referred to arbitration shall be excluded from the jurisdiction of domestic courts. However, the provisions of this paragraph shall not prevent an arbitral tribunal from referring the case to the domestic courts for its enforcement.
5. An investor(s) of a Contracting Party wishing to submit a dispute to arbitration shall submit a written notice to the other Contracting Party, indicating the arbitrator of their choice. The other Contracting Party shall, within sixty days of receipt of such notice, nominate an arbitrator, and the appointed arbitrators shall appoint a chairman within 60 days of the last appointment. If at any time, either party does not appoint its own arbitrator, or the arbitrators selected do not agree on the choice of the chairman, either party may request the Secretary General of the Permanent Court of Arbitration to appoint the chairman or arbitrators as the case may be. In each case, the arbitrator shall be chosen from among nationals of countries that, at the time of election, have relations with the Contracting Parties.

Article 13. Settlement of Disputes between the Contracting Parties

1. Any disputes arising out of the implementation or interpretation of this Agreement, or related to it, shall first be negotiated and resolved in a friendly manner. In the event of a disagreement, within six months, each Contracting Party may, subject to its respective laws and regulations, refer the matter to a three-member arbitral tribunal composed of two arbitrators appointed by each of the Contracting Parties and a chairman appointed by agreement of both Contracting Parties. If referred to arbitration, each Contracting Party shall, within sixty days of the date of receipt of the notice, appoint an arbitrator, and both parties shall appoint the chairman within sixty days from the date of the last appointment. If any Contracting Party does not appoint its arbitrator within the prescribed period, or there is an absence of agreement on the selection of the chairman, each of the parties may request the President of the International Court of Justice to appoint, as the case may be, the arbitrator or the chairman, as the case may be. The arbitrator shall, in any case, have the nationality of a country that has political relations at the time of the election with the Contracting Parties.

2. In cases where the chairman must be appointed by the President of the International Court of Justice, if the President of the International Court of Justice is a national of any of the Contracting Parties, the abovementioned appointment shall be made by the Vice-President of the International Court of Justice, and if the Vice-President is also a national of one of the Contracting Parties, the appointment shall be made by a member of the Court who has not the nationality of any of the Contracting Parties.

3. The Arbitral Tribunal shall, subject to the other provisions agreed by the Contracting Parties, determine the procedure and the place of arbitration.

4. The decisions of the arbitration panel shall be binding on the Contracting Parties.

Article 14. Validity of the Agreement

1. This Agreement shall be subject to the laws and regulations of each of the Contracting Parties, and approved by its competent authorities.

2. This Agreement shall enter into force for a period of ten years from the date of the last notification by either Contracting Party to the other Contracting Party that it has taken all the necessary measures in accordance with its laws and regulations to enter into force of this Agreement. After this period, the Agreement shall remain valid unless one of the Contracting Parties informs the other Contracting Party in writing, six months before its termination that it will not renew the Agreement.

3. After expiration of the period of validity or termination of this Agreement, the provisions of Articles (1) to (15) regarding investments made under this Agreement shall continue to apply for an additional period of ten years.
